To Whom It May Concern,

As a career software engineer, I must say I am extremely dissatisfied in the proposed settlement in the Microsoft Antitrust Settlement. There are no penalties for the antitrust behavior that Microsoft has exhibited in the last 10 years. In fact, the proposed settlement goes to further Microsoft's exposure in a place it historically has been second to it's only consumer competition, Apple.

I believe that the settlement does not go far enough to punish and in fact furthers Microsoft's monopolistic practices.

Thanks,
